City Postpones OK On Food Ordinance, Asks Public Opinion

The council Monday night tabled their second reading of the new city food ordinance in order that they would have more time to hear public reaction to the changes it would mean throughout the community.

Drafted, as requested by the county in its move to establish uniform food inspection control, the ordinance requires that all organizations offering food for public consumption—restaurants, schools, PTAs, churches, et cetera—have permits to assure that the food was prepared in licensed and inspected kitchens.

The county ordinance, explained by health officer Frank Howell, prohibits the sale of food unless it comes from licensed establishments. Thus cookie and cake sales and potlucks are no longer permissible unless the sponsoring groups get permits which verify that the food comes from licensed kitchens.

Actually, all the non-profit and charitable affairs sponsored by churches, PTAs and schools will not require payment of a license fee. But these groups must obtain permits just the same. These permits are granted on a yearly basis and may be obtained in the city clerk's office.

Councilmen Bob St. Clair and Frank Pacelli Monday night said they were certain the schools and churches and other fund-raising organizations would be deprived of considerable revenue if the ordinance were passed.

But, like Mayor Michael DeBernardi, the council as a whole feels that health standards would be improved by adopting the county-recommended ordinance.

The council is sending out letters to all local organizations explaining the new food ordinance and asks their feelings on the matter. Public hearing will continue on the ordinance at the January 12 council meeting.

The new food ordinance here also provides for a three-member board of appeal to weigh protests that may arise. Two of its members will be from Daly City, the third from the county health department.

The council Monday accepted an amendment to the city business license ordinance which gives businesses a better shake in paying city and county fees. The city business license tax is $18 a year. If the county food ordinance is adopted here, businesses must pay the county a fee of say $10, then are required to pay the city only the remaining $8.

The council this week also amended city ordinance 480 to extend the DC Scavenger Company's lease on the Mussell Rock dump from five to 20 years.

Police Chief Says —

CURFEW PROBLEM 'NOT' BAD HERE

Daly City hasn't experienced much trouble with juvenile curfew violators, but the council wants to help establish a uniform county curfew enforcement program to curb the vandalism that has erupted in many Peninsula communities of late.

This was the written report from Police Chief Roland Petrocchi Monday night. Councilmen followed through by pushing for a curfew study and recommendations by north county police chiefs and recreation leaders.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi, who urged the juvenile survey at last week's North County Council session here, charged that the county was lax in urging its cities to heed curfew regulations.

"They want us to conform to a county-wide system, yet they (the county) haven't come up with any solutions," said the mayor. "There has been little communication on this from the county and they have dumped juvenile problems in the laps of the cities."

"The curfew isn't the real answer," he continued. "The cities need a comprehensive ordinance—one that should be drafted after the police chiefs and recreation leaders present their views."

Petrocchi's report indicated that Daly City's ordinance on the juvenile curfew dates back to 1947 and that it has been enforced conscientiously to date. It was amended in 1953 when the San Mateo County Law Enforcement Association recommended that all the cities in the county adopt a uniform curfew ordinance.

Petrocchi said his department had fewer juvenile reports to date than at the same time a year ago.

He added: "Juvenile gangs are not a serious problem here. All groups of individuals, regardless of where they are in Daly City, are supervised, as well as all creameries and one drive-in. When a house party is given by a youngster and it comes to the attention of this department, it is relayed to the beat officer who in turn makes periodic checks. All dances or activities where youngsters congregate that come to the attention of the department, and most of them do, are supervised by our police or by the auxiliary police."

"We feel this has helped considerably and because of this, we shall continue to enforce the curfew and to supervise as many juvenile activities as we possibly can," the chief concluded.

Robert Young On Personnel Board
Robert Young, of 118 Vale street, a government worker at Treasure Island, was named to the city personnel board by council action Monday night.

His nomination was made by Councilman Edward Dennis. Young succeeds Albert Polonsky, who resigned.

Council Sets Sales Tax Showdown: People To Decide At Polls In May

THIS hefty bronze bell—one of several used many years ago to summon fire fighters here—was placed as a monument to Daly City's deceased fire personnel last week in front of the Westlake fire house off Lake Merced boulevard. Memorial Day services hereafter will be held at this site instead of at the various cemeteries. Admiring the old-timer are Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, Chamber of Commerce's Pete Markovich and Fire Bttn. Chief Wayne Alexander. The DC fire department began in 1907 with volunteers doing the job.

The city council Monday night oiled the machinery for a referendum vote on sales tax—instructing City Attorney Paul Hupf to ask the county to place the issue on the May school trustee election ballot.

None of the four councilmen (Joseph Verducci was absent) came up with any change in feelings on sales tax, despite the protests from the floor by ex-Councilman Sanford Vickers.

MAYOR BLASTS DELINQUENCY, COUNTY SERVICE

Mayor Michael DeBernardi proved an "explosive" host at last week's North County Council meeting here as he prompted action on two of his pet proposals—combating juvenile delinquency and pressing county supervisors to provide the north end with more adequate services.

The mayor, citing numerous incidents of juvenile delinquency, suggested that the north county leaders recommend some sort of "unified" program to stem the rising tide of delinquency.

Admitting that he alone did not know the answer, DeBernardi said, "something has to be done soon." The mayors and councilmen of the other cities (from Burlingame north) agreed to form a committee of their police chiefs and recreation leaders to come up with some ideas.

DeBernardi's tirade against the county's "poor service in the north end," long-time complaint of the North County Council, was strongly echoed by Councilman Leo J. Ryan of South San Francisco.

"The hog's share of taxation is going from our cities," said DeBernardi, "and we aren't"

Vickers, defeated for re-election last May, cited that under the government code, sales tax could be voted out by simple ballot of the council itself.

"You should vote out sales tax now," Vickers began. "Then call a vote of the people so that the issue can be settled fairly."

Referring to the sales tax pronouncements of Mayor Michael DeBernardi and Councilman Edward Dennis and Bob St. Clair (all successful in the May election), Vickers continued:

"You were elected on your platforms and you owe it to the people to stand by your convictions. The people are demanding their voice on sales tax... and you haven't done anything but delay a showdown."

Councilman Frank Pacelli, who with Verducci voted in sales tax last April (third vote was that of Del Wilson, defeated the next month), said Vickers was "putting us on the spot."

"I don't see what's wrong in waiting until May for the referendum on sales tax. Even should sales tax fall at the polls tomorrow, we can't end the levy here until the end of the fiscal year (next June) because our present budget includes the use of sales tax funds for capital outlay projects."

DeBernardi, who claims he did not campaign for repeal of sales tax but for a referendum decision by the public, reminded Vickers that the council tried to establish a referendum on sales tax on the November general election ballot. County supervisors turned down this request.

The mayor again repeated that placing the sales tax before the people in May would save the city about $4000, the cost of a special election if the council wanted the referendum immediately.

Dennis once again declared he had favored repeal of the tax from the start—the same stand taken by St. Clair.

"We tried in November to get the issue on the ballot," said Dennis. "I think it will be settled satisfactorily in next May's election."

St. Clair told Vickers that "two wrongs don't make a right."

"It was wrong of the council last spring to force this issue through without letting the people vote," he said. "I don't think the council should vote it out in the same manner. The referendum vote should be put to the people as soon as possible," St. Clair finalized.

CITY, STATE SEAL COAST HIWAY PACT

Old Coast Highway this week officially became Daly City's responsibility as the council entered into a maintenance agreement with the state which will allow the road to remain open as long as it is safe.

The pact was a mere formality and was expedient for the city because of the highway's value as an access route to the DC Scavenger company dump at Mussell Rock.

The state was prepared to junk the ancient highway and close it off because of heavy maintenance costs each year due to slides. But by inking the agreement, Daly City will be able to keep the road open, though councilmen can close the route if it becomes impassable.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi noted that maintaining the road wouldn't mean any expense for the city because the scavenger company is obligated to provide its own access to the dump. In the event slides endanger the road, the highway could be closed by council edict.

CONSTRUCTION RATE AGAIN BUSTS RECORD

New construction here last month continued to break all previous marks as building began on structures valued at $2,607,072.

The Public Works Office during November issued a total of 210 building permits, 181 of which were for new homes, valued at $2,551,920. Bulk of these are in the new Doelger and Zita developments south of realigned Westmoor avenue.

The November permit breakdown included:

Fifteen dwelling alterations, $13,707; four commercial alterations, $13,500; one commercial building, $12,000; five signs, $2645; two fire damaged home repairs, $10,500; one building moved here, $2800, and one demolition.

McKeons Agree To Cut Down Night Grading

McKeon Company has agreed to restrict night-time grading operations in St. Francis Heights south of Broadmoor—a move prompted by the city council after some 35 residents protested the noise was a bit too much to take after a long working day.

George McKeon informed City Manager George Watts and the council Monday that his grading contractor had been instructed to grade the areas south of Broadmoor only during daylight hours and not later than 9 p.m.

Most of the McKeon night-time grading operations now are being done at the south end of their development east of Skyline boulevard.

NORTH END LEADERS TOLD:

'Rapid Transit Only Answer'

Rapid transit in the Bay Area—a $700 million proposal that goes before voters in 1960—hinges on a massive "selling" job to convince tax-weary residents that the project is worthwhile.

In so many words, this was what John Peirce, the man leading the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, urged members of the North County Council of Cities in a meeting last week.

That rapid transit is the "inevitable" solution pinpointed Peirce's remarks as he outlined the project which he said must become a reality by 1969. "The area is 'getting by' now," Peirce said, "but soon we will reach the point where the freeways will be so jammed we'll be in a mess."

"There simply isn't enough money nor space to provide for the movement of everyone in the Bay Area in the private automobile alone," Peirce declared.

"If rapid transit—the means of moving people more quickly—is not approved, an extra 40 lanes of freeway will have to be built in the northern part of San Mateo county," Peirce continued, citing a recent report by Frank Skillman, county planning director.

Rapid transit will be a revolutionary idea here—a system as modern, and even better than any in the world, he went on.

His report explained that the basic system proposed would include 123 miles of track in San Mateo, San Francisco, Alameda, Marin and Contra Costa counties. One line would run from San Francisco south to Palo Alto. Another would go north across (Continued on Page 2)

DC RESIDENT WILL DESIGN FIRE STATION

Architect John W. Gloe, a Daly City resident, Monday night was given council authorization to design the new fire station to be located south of Westmoor High School and just east of Skyline boulevard.

Gloe, who lives at 220 Skyline drive, was judged the top choice of six architects interviewed for the project last month.

City Manager George Watts said it will be about two months before Gloe's drawings will be ready. Construction of the $95,000 station should start next March and the completion is expected by August.

The money comes from capital outlay funds in the present city budget. The $95,000 total includes funds for equipping the station, which will serve residents of the Palisades and those who live south of Westlake and in the new developments south of Westmoor avenue.

Marchbanks Parking Lot Bought By City

The Marchbanks Park parking lot fiasco ended quietly Monday night as the city council authorized $16,770 from capital outlay funds to purchase a major hunk of the land recently purchased by Dominic Piccinini, a cement contractor.

City Manager George Watts recommended the purchase and Mayor Michael DeBernardi said the move had been approved by the city planning and recreation commissions.

The city thus will get a strip of land about 33,541 square feet, running from North Parkview avenue to the end of the park and back to the Southern Pacific railroad tracks. This ultimately will be paved for the convenience of park users.

Piccinini will retain the southerly end of the strip, stretching from Westlake avenue to the park's rightfield boundary. He seeks commercial zoning this week on this property before the planning commission. He intends to build a storage warehouse for lease to other building material contractors.

DC Recreation Staff To Add Senior Leader

Daly City's recreation department staff will double in size by next month, thanks to action by the city council this week.

The staff will be bolstered by the addition of a woman senior recreation leader. The position, offering a salary range of $389-$449, was authorized in the present budget. The opening

Jeff High PTA Choral Program This Thursday

Christmas time is more complete, more joyful, when given expression in the songs of the season.

Jefferson High's girl choral group, under the leadership of David Manning, will render a selection of popular yuletide songs this Thursday, December 11, at the regular PTA meeting to be held in the Little Theater. The festivities begin at 8 p.m., and all parents and friends are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Dennis Wins Union Election

Councilman Edward J. Dennis of Daly City last week was re-elected president and business representative of Milk Drivers Union Local 226, which has jurisdiction over all dairy employees in San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

Dennis has held the union post the past 12 years. He was unopposed for re-election last

3 Juveniles Admit W'lake House Raid

Three Colma School upper-graders were rounded up by DC police last week and admitted burglarizing the Westlake home of Lawrence Hanson, a carpet layer, of 844 North Mayfair avenue.

Their "loot" could have produced even more serious difficulties to themselves as well as others.

Entering the home by an unlocked rear door, the delinquents took $90 in cash, a fully-loaded .38 caliber pistol and a .22 caliber target pistol. This apparently satisfied them, because nothing else in the residence was disturbed.

A neighbor's tip led to the trackdown of the youths. They were cited to juvenile authorities.

Local 226, which became affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters in 1903, has never had a strike in its long history. Dennis pointed out.

The senior recreation leader will work under Charles Vincent, who heads the recreation department under the supervision of Dee R. Van Nest, city park and recreation director.

Duties of the senior recreation leader will include supervision of all phases of social recreation and female sports programs, according to Van Nest.

Applicants must have a minimum of two years of experience in recreational activities and college or university training in recreation or related fields.

getting enough back." Ryan agreed that it was time for north enders to start "pushing" the county on this disparity. And at the same time he joined with DeBernardi in lashing the county's charter study committee, calling its "delay in reporting its findings...a big stall."

DeBernardi then asked the north county delegates to form a fact-finding committee to put the pressure on county supervisors for more services and attention. The group was unanimous on this, capping it by appointing DeBernardi as committee chairman.

"We, in Daly City, and the north end," DeBernardi stated, "have been carrying the tax load too long."

"The north end has 41 per cent of the county's population and 35 per cent of the county's total assessed valuation," he went on. "We just aren't getting our share of the services we pay the county to provide."

the golden Gate Bridge to Novato. East Bay lines would run from Oakland to Richmond, Concord and Decoto.

"Studies we have show that even if we construct all the new freeways and highways needed by 1970, we would still have chaotic congestion if we have to rely solely on the private automobile," added Peirce.

Peirce said that the Southern Pacific was the only existing rapid transit idea, but even this is hardly adequate.

He admitted that selling people on the idea and its cost to the taxpayers was the biggest concern.

"But I'm sure people will want this system because it will be made attractive and economical to use. It will be more comfortable, safer and just as economical to the individual pocketbook."

As for the load carried by rapid transit, Peirce said rapid transit's 40,000 passengers per hour per track is much better than the present single lane freeway rate of 2400 persons per hour per track.

All five county boards of supervisors first must approve the system, said Peirce. Two-thirds majority of the public vote then is required.

Ex-Councilman Sanford Vickers of Daly City arranged Peirce's talk here. The program also featured the rapid transit movie, "Millions on the Move."

Police Car Is Rammed, Officer Hurt

Officer John Coleman suffered back injuries Saturday afternoon when his Daly City police car was rammed in the rear by a pickup truck driven by a 16-year-old San Mateo youth.

Coleman was attempting to make a left turn onto Alp street from the southbound lane on Mission when the truck, operated by Ronald Schmidt, clobbered the police vehicle. Damage to the trunk section of the police car was extensive.

Coleman was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for bruises and a wrenched back. He is still unable to return to duty.

CITY BUYS MARCHBANKS PARKING LOT

The cement contractor purchased the entire strip—North Parkview—from Southern Pacific for $31,000 this summer after the council turned down its option to buy the property.

Public protests forced the council to reverse its stand and Piccinini agreed to the "compromise" which was finalized Monday night.

SCOUTS INVITE PUBLIC TO LEARN ABOUT NEW EXPLORER PROGRAM

The chance for adults to learn about the brand new national Boy Explorers program will be offered this Saturday, December 13, at an all-day training program at Daly City War Memorial building on Mission street, Bob Hunter, District Scouting chairman, announced today.

"This will be the first chance for Lake Merced, Westlake, and Daly City people to learn about the newest thing for teen-age boys, and we hope many, many parents and other interested adults will attend sometime between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

"If anyone is interested in ways to direct the activities and interests of our boys into useful pursuits, this explanation of the great new Explorer program should start the ball rolling," Hunter said. "We can't stress too strongly that here is the solution to one of our most pressing community problems—helping these important teen-agers to help themselves toward good citizenship."

The re-designed national Explorer program was kicked off recently with a national

Fire Chief Kennedy Tells How To Avoid Xmas Tree 'Hazards'

- Keep fire away from your tree:
- That warning comes from Chief Elmer Kennedy of the fire department as Daly City approaches the Christmas holidays.
- The "Christmas tree, filled with natural pitch and resin, is one of the most combustible objects known," Chief Kennedy warned. "It can burn so quickly, it is almost impossible to extinguish the flames by ordinary methods."
- To help prevent Christmas tree fires, the following simple precautions were offered:
1. Buy a fresh tree. Be wary of trees sold as fire-proof.
 2. Keep your tree in a cold place until you are ready to set it up.
 3. Before setting up the tree, saw off diagonally at least an inch of the trunk, and place base in a water-containing holder. Keep water reservoir filled.
 4. Locate your tree well away from fire-places, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights, and other sources of heat.
 5. Never use candles. Use only electric lights and be sure these bear the underwriters' laboratories label. Check wires for defects and loose sockets before putting them on the tree.
 6. Too many light circuits are one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse. Reduce the Load or connect part to another outlet. Never increase the size of the use, or substitute a penny for a blown fuse.
 7. Turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room or at home for any lengthy period.
 8. Do not operate electric trains or any other electric toys which may spark under the tree.
 9. Be sure the ends of metallic icicles or other hanging decorations do not dangle into light sockets where they can cause a short circuit or flash fire.
 10. Move the Christmas tree lights as the tree's needles near them turn brown.
 11. Dispose of old trees in fire safe areas outdoors, not in furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, because Christmas trees burn with almost explosive violence.

Then come to either branch of the Daly City Public Library and let us help you. For your convenience, special shelves of Christmas material have been set up. On them you will find books on Christmas customs and legends, suggestions for holiday decorations, gift-making ideas, and other Christmas material. Come in; let your library help you make this Christmas a "Merry Christmas."

But come early, for the demand for Christmas materials is so heavy the library staff has been forced to restrict the circulation of material to one-day and one-week periods.

Among the most useful books are these: "Stories to Read at Christmas," "Make Your Own Christmas Cards," "The Christmas Cookie Book," "The Holiday Round-Up," and the "Tall Book of Christmas by Dorothy Hall."

Be sure when you come in to check the current periodicals that feature special Christmas material. Among them you will find: McCall's, House Beautiful, Seventeen, Better Homes and Gardens, Boys' Life, Holiday, Consumers' Bulletin, Good Housekeeping, The American Girl, and believe it or not, even Popular Electronics has entered the Christmas field with an illustration of how a robot can decorate a Christmas tree.

CAR CARAVAN of mothers last week "evacuated" Garden Village School's 500 youngsters in a civil defense exercise sponsored by James L. Snell PTA. The drill, held Tuesday afternoon, required only 18 minutes and was judged very successful by local and county officials. The dry-run test was the first of its kind in San Mateo county schools.

BROADMOOR police supervised traffic last week as Snell PTA staged a smooth civil defense test at Garden Village School. The school's 500 pupils calmly went through emergency procedures while a motorcade of 60 cars and the school bus prepared to transport the youngsters to Woodside. The exercise was the first of its kind in San Mateo County and was applauded by local and outside civil defense planners. THE RECORD photo

Women's Faculty Club Inaugurates 'Christmas Week' At State College

The Women's Faculty Club of San Francisco State College will initiate and participate in a week long series of pre-Christmas festivities when it meets Friday December 12, at 2 p.m. in room 221 of the Creative Arts building.

After a brief business session, Dr. John Carl Tegnell will direct the Chamber Choir in a program of unusual Christmas music. Tegnell, coordinator of vocal music, is particularly well known to audiences in San Francisco and the Bay Area as the conductor of the State College A Cappella Choir which has won a reputation for consistently fine performances through its annual appearance with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Tegnell is a graduate of the School of Music as well as the Graduate School of Northwestern University and is a singer, teacher of singing, and musicologist. He has been called upon regularly to prepare choruses for the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra and has received highest praise for his work from leading conductors: William Steinberg, Thomas Scherman, Igor Markevitch and Enrique Jordá.

The Chamber Choir, which is composed of sixteen members who are all members of the A Cappella Choir, is the newest "baby" in the choral organization of the Creative Arts Division. It was adopted into the curriculum less than one year ago and will soon celebrate its first anniversary.

Among the 50 guests who have been invited to this meeting are the relatives and friends of the choir members and twenty representatives of major women's organizations. Following the program, tea will be served in the activities room of the administration building. Tea hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Ray Doyle and Mrs. Leo McClatchy.

The Associated Students will join with the Women's Faculty Club to host three events which have become part of the Christmas tradition at the college.

The first will be the lighting of Christmas display on December 15 at 3 p.m. in front of the Student Union. Mrs. Glenn S. Dumke will officially open Christmas Week. Forty-five children from the Frederick Burk School, dressed in choir robes, will sing and judges will view the displays. After the singing there will be refreshments for all children. Everyone is invited.

The annual Christmas Choral Concert, scheduled December 17 at 8:30 p.m. in the main auditorium of the Creative Arts Building, is the next event. The public is invited. A reception will follow in Room 224. The distinguished guests who have been invited include Mayor George Christopher and the members of the board of supervisors.

Miss Jo Ann Hendricks, representative-at-large for the Associated Students and overall chairman of the Christmas Week Committee, wishes to remind the public that the auditorium seats only 800; therefore, early arrival is suggested. Admission is free.

The third co-sponsored event will be the coffee hour for the entire student body on December 18 at 2 p.m. in the activities room of the administration building.

The week's gala activities will be climaxed with the traditional annual Candlelight Christmas Dinner for faculty and students and the families of both. It will be held December 18 at 7 p.m. in the main dining room. In the interest of fostering and cementing international relationships, Dean Dorothy Wells will invite to this dinner as guests of the Women's Faculty Club eight overseas and eight American students who are in San Francisco without their families.

National Safety Council Warns About Xmas Trees, Risky Toys

Christmas suggestion for the house that has everything: a built-in brain to detect booby traps in Christmas trees and toys.

The tip comes from the National Safety Council, which says every household already has this wonder gadget, but most don't realize it.

"It's the collective brain-power of the family," the Council said. And it operates on a few basic principles:

1. The Christmas tree is one of the most combustible objects known and once on fire it burns so fiercely, fed by natural pitch and resin, that it's almost impossible to douse the flames by ordinary means.
2. Children's toys must be bought not only with age, interest and physical capabilities of the child in mind, but also with the intention of teaching the child how to use the toys.

"Trees should be taken down when the needles start to fall, even if the holidays aren't over, and disposed of out-of-doors in fire-safe areas," the Council said. "Never dispose of the tree in a fireplace, furnace or stove where the fire might get too hot to control."

Other Christmas tree safety tips:

- Keep tree in a cold place until ready to set it up, then saw off diagonally about an inch of the trunk, put it in a water-containing holder and keep container filled.
- Don't put the tree near a fireplace, radiator, television set, powerful light or other heat source. Don't run an electric train around its base.
- Use electric lights which bear Underwriters' Laboratories label, check wires for defects and don't overload house wiring. Turn out tree lights when not in the room for a long time.
- Make sure ends of metallic icicles and other ornaments do not dangle in light sockets. Do not use flammable decorations.
- Use a step ladder when trimming the upper branches.
- "Toys should stir the imagination, encourage creative ability and train the child for better living," the Council said. "But many times parents order things which turn out to be dangerous."

When shopping for children's toys:

- Choose toys which aren't too heavy for youngsters to handle.
- Check toys for small parts which may become loose and which toddlers might swallow. Don't buy small toys, marbles, jacks, coins or beads for very young children.
- Make sure toy is strongly made so that it won't break and leave jagged edges.
- Avoid toys or play clothing which are highly flammable like celluloid and many brushed and napped fabrics.
- Select washable playthings colored with non-poisonous dye or paint.
- Steer clear of electrical type toys for very young children.
- For older children, select only those which bear the seal of approval of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

By ROY HURLBERT

Students at Benjamin Franklin School take their assignments seriously.

Principal FRED SCHWEICKHARDT relays a corker of a story that rats mention t "national mags in the "it-could-only-happen-here" department.

Seems fifth grade pupils at BF recently were instructed to write various states inquiring from chambers of commerce about the status of their transportation, manufacturing, etc., etc.

One enterprising youngster talked his dad into writing a letter of inquiry to a Missouri city. The zeal of dad and lad was so convincing that two agents from the Missouri city reported here—certain that the inquirer was about to build a factory in Missouri.

To shorten this long yarn, it turned out that father had to pay the hotel bill for the Missouri travelers.

Schweickhardt didn't say what kind of a grade the lad got for giving the project his ultimate attention.

The jet-train crash recently in San Diego sort of "inconveniened" DC's ADALIA MARQUEZ of 183 Oliver street.

She was aboard the train and the impact was so great she lost her shoes. Also spent a couple of weeks in the hospital nursing bruises.

Adalia, working for her lawyer son as a female private eye, was headed for Tijuana at the time.

A former Manila newspaper reporter and member of MacArthur's staff, she will return to her native Philippines soon to supervise the filming of "Blood On The Rising Sun," adapted from her book about the Japanese occupation.

Edward King New Westlake Bank Manager

Edward M. King, manager of Bank of America's Parkside branch in San Francisco the past four years, has been promoted to succeed the late D. J. Franco as manager of the Westlake branch, President S. Clark Beise announced today.

Beginning as a messenger in 1927, he served a number of years at the Harbor and Ninth-Market branches, then was advanced to operations officer at the 21st-Irving office. He was promoted to lending duties there in 1946.

Long active in community and church affairs, King is a past president of St. Vincent de Paul Fathers club and a director of St. Ignatius Fathers club, secretary-treasurer of the De Paul Youth club, treasurer of the West O'Twin Peaks Lions club and Parkside Merchants association, past chairman of the Junior Achievers, and treasurer of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Men. He is also a member of the Olympic club.

He and his wife, Dorothy, are parents of three sons, Edward Jr., 17, Michael, 13, and Kevin, 12, and seven-year-old twin daughters, Katherine Anne and Mary Anne.

The family lives at 2924 Steiner, San Francisco, but will be moving shortly to Westlake.

Illness Sidelines Dr. R. Lee Otis, DC Optometrist

Dr. R. Lee Otis, veteran Daly City optometrist at 6272 Mission street, has taken a leave of absence due to illness.

His practice has been turned over to Dr. Harold A. Garrett for the time being. Dr. Otis, currently in the hospital, expects to be home for the Christmas holidays. Shortly thereafter he will take a trip to Palm Springs for a rest.

Dr. Garrett has had an optometric practice in Auburn, California, for many years, and he will serve Dr. Otis' patients until the latter is well enough to return to full-time duty.

An announcement on the talks is expected soon, we hear.

St. Ignatius High School officials are eager to get a final OK to purchase about 12 acres of the Westlake Basin property for a long-sought Catholic high school.

MARINE Sgt. Daniel F. Savage smiles as the nurse shows him the pint of blood he gave to the San Francisco Memorial Blood Bank in response to an appeal from a former Marine whose young son had been critically injured in an automobile accident. Arrangements are now being made by Board Chairman Joe Di Maggio to show movies on weekends for KIP kids. Di Maggio is also making a color documentary on film for showings to other organizations.

A mistletoe sale is underway by the KIP Kids. Large bunches of mistletoe sell for 25 cents, proceeds to KIP. Earl Arrell is the donor of the mistletoe, and Art Rodondi, City Clerk of SSF, not only gave permission for the sale, but is taking time out to extend other courtesies.

James Ron, attorney of SSF, has prepared and is filing KIP's application for a state charter as an incorporated entity, and soon KIP will be an organization officially recognized by the state of California.

Mrs. Charles Addington of Daly City is buried under a deluge of costumes which she is making, free of charge for time and services, for all Kipsters as the need for costumes occurs. Mr. Addington has worked as MC on several shows and will continue to do so.

New talent is being discovered every week, and KIP will soon have new musical groups as well as soloists. One of the big talents which KIP welcomes is Marie Elena Morrison, who was winner of the singers' competition in the parochial schools. Marie Elena has also appeared on the Don Sherwood show twice, and will appear on several KIP Christmas shows.

Welcome to Jim Lufrano of Daly City, saxophonist, who played the Log Cabin show on November 30.

ON CAPUCHINO HARDWOODS

Reitz, Howren Carry Jeff Title Hopes

Three practice tilts behind them, Jefferson's varsity cagers this Thursday face Mills High at 4:45 p.m. in the first round of the three-day Peninsula League invitational tournament on the Capuchino High court in San Bruno.

Coach Mike Orlich's Indians on Friday will play the winner or loser of the San Mateo-Capuchino game, depending on Thursday's outcome. Tourney finals are Saturday night.

Last week, the Indians, led by senior forwards Ernie Howren and southpaw Roy Reitz, split two engagements. The Tribe edged Tamalpais High, 34-28, then lost to Poly of San Francisco, 62-42.

Rick Warren's Jeff 30's dumped the Tam lightweights, 41-31, but lost to Poly, 40-34.

This Wednesday the Indian quints host Mission High of SF. Orlich was impressed with Poly last week, though his team was handicapped by the absence of Center Pete Garcia and guards Art Banos and Jerry Kennedy. The trio reported late after football season.

Reitz, who could be the Peninsula's hottest individual, tanked 21 points against Tamalpais and got 18 against Poly. Howren, the lone returning first stringer, had 6 against Tam and 10 against Poly.

Orlich's first team to date has Garcia at center, and juniors Jack Horn and Banos at guards. Sophs Allan Lee and Gary Bonini, two tall lads, are pressing Garcia for starting duty.

Warren's lightweights take the floor with Gary Molossi at center, Rich Mortola and J. B. Berry at forwards, and Tony DiVirgilio and Ralph Caloario at guards. Top reserves are Karl Keeling, Pat Bell and Joe Vaez.

Berry got 16 points against Tamalpais and Molossi was high against Poly with 10, followed by Mortola with 8.

LEADING Westmoor's varsity against Burlingame in the first round of the second annual Peninsula League tourney, this and Dave Simons. Coach Tony Giammona's Rams will be among the contenders when the league opens next month.

Van Alstyne Buckets 29 Points As W'moor Faculty Downs Varsity, 38-36

Byron Van Alstyne's field goal in the second overtime period Friday night gave Westmoor High's faculty cagers a thrilling 38-36 win over the Ram varsity five before a full house in the school gym.

The win was the third without a loss for the faculty in the annual series with the varsity squad.

Westmoor's lightweights won the other game, 35-28, with Bob Dickey's 9 points leading the way.

Van Alstyne, coach of the Westmoor lightweights, Friday showed the form he was famous for at USC. He bagged 29 points for the adult aggregation. Guard Dave Simons led the varsity with 10 points.

Behind 16-6 at halftime, the faculty hoopers fought back to knot the count at 32-all at the end of regulation time.

South, praising Van Alstyne for a "typical great performance," said "inspiration" won for the faculty men.

"With a guy like Rod Losberger in the lineup, we figured we couldn't lose," said the principal.

Losberger, held to three points because he was guarded by five varsity starters, was hampered by a sore toe. Five years ago, this same Losberger held Wilt Chamberlain, the Kansas All-American, to two points in an All-Air Force tourney at Big Springs, Texas. Losberger received national attention for this feat. He later turned down several professional cage offers to enter the teaching ranks.

The doubleheader, staged in conjunction with the big holiday dinner presented by the Westmoor PTA, was enlivened by the zany antics of the faculty as they "warmed up" for the battle. The teachers came onto the floor attired in football gear—helmets, pads and all.

After this bit of shenaniganism, both teams went about their tasks in all seriousness.

"Van Alstyne gave us a commented Ram standout in Holmgren. "But don't think weren't worried about Losger. He scared us somewhat."
